- 1.2. The headings herein are inserted for convenience only and shall not affect the construction of this Agreement.
- 1.3. References to “Applicable Laws” (or any provisions thereunder) are to such Applicable Laws and/or provisions as may be from time to time modified, amended or re-enacted.
- 1.4. References to “Clause” in this Agreement are, unless otherwise expressly provided, references to clauses to this Agreement as may be from time to time amended or supplemented.
- 1.5. References to “Appendix” in this Agreement are, unless otherwise expressly provided, references to the Appendix to this Agreement as may be from time to time amended or supplemented.
- 1.6. References to “Schedules” in this Agreement are, unless otherwise expressly provided, references to the Schedules to this Agreement as may be from time to time amended or supplemented.
- 1.7. Expressions in the singular form shall include the plural and vice versa, and all references to the masculine gender shall include the female and neuter genders and vice versa.

2. GENERAL SCOPE AND APPLICATION

- 2.1. The terms and conditions comprised in this Agreement and the Application Form shall apply to and govern each Account opened or established with TOMO and in respect of all Transactions. The terms and conditions comprised in the main body of this Agreement are supplemented by the Appendix and the Schedules hereto (as may from time to time be amended or supplemented by TOMO). The Appendix and the Schedules shall be read together with, and shall form an integral part of this Agreement.
- 2.2. In addition to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, the terms and conditions of each Schedule shall apply in the circumstances and/or Transactions described therein. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the terms and conditions of the main body of this Agreement and the terms and conditions of any Schedule, the latter shall prevail, but only to the extent of such conflict or inconsistency.
- 2.3. If, in respect of a given Account, Order or Transaction, any additional or specific terms are stated (whether in any Confirmation or any master agreement or any other document or otherwise) to apply, such additional or specific terms shall apply (as supplemented by and read together with this Agreement) in respect of that Account or Transaction, and shall form an integral part of this Agreement. In the event of any conflict or inconsistency between the terms of this Agreement and any additional or specific terms in respect of the relevant Account, Order or Transaction, the latter shall prevail but only to the extent of such conflict or inconsistency.
- 2.4. The terms and conditions of this Agreement must be read together with the terms and conditions appearing on the Application Form, Confirmation and statements of account. All of the foregoing may from time to time be amended, supplemented or replaced from time to time by TOMO. All of the foregoing shall together govern the relationship between TOMO and the Customer.
- 2.5. All Transactions are entered into in reliance on the fact that this Agreement and all Confirmations form a single agreement between TOMO and the Customer, and parties would not otherwise enter into any Transaction.
- 2.6. By completing the Application Form, agreeing to open an Account, maintaining or operating an Account, issuing any Order or entering into any Transaction, with or through TOMO:
- 2.6.1. the Customer acknowledges to TOMO that the Customer has received, read and understood this Agreement and all its contents;
- 2.6.2. the Customer acknowledges and accepts the risks (including but not limited to, the Risk Disclosure Statement) and other matters disclosed in this Agreement; and
- 2.6.3. the Customer agrees to, and undertakes to be bound by, this Agreement as applicable to the Account, Order, or Transaction, opened, maintained, issued to or entered into with TOMO and such other terms and conditions as may govern the relationship between TOMO and the Customer.
- 2.7. The Customer's acknowledgements, acceptance, agreements and undertakings in Clause 2.6 shall be conditions precedent to TOMO's performance of its obligations under this Agreement.

- 2.8. The Customer's relationship with TOMO hereunder, the opening, maintaining and operation of all Accounts and the implementation and execution of all Orders, and the entry into and settlement of all Transactions, shall be subject at all times to the Applicable Laws. TOMO may take or refrain from taking any action whatsoever, and the Customer shall do all things that TOMO may require, in order to procure or ensure compliance with the Applicable Laws.
- 2.9. The Customer further ratifies all Transactions effected by TOMO on its behalf prior to the date of this Agreement and agrees that such Transactions shall also be governed by the terms of this Agreement.
- 2.10. The risks disclosed in the Risk Disclosure Statement in the Appendix apply to all Transactions which the Customer may enter into with TOMO under this Agreement. As an additional cautionary note in order to ensure that the Customer invests or trades in Commodities or other Transactions hereunder only on a fully informed basis, please be reminded that the Transactions, like other financial transactions, involve a variety of significant risks, not all of which may have been identified in the Appendix. The specific risks presented by a particular Transaction the Customer effects depends upon the terms of the Transaction and the Customer's circumstances. In general, all Transactions involve some combination of market risk, credit risk, funding risk and operational risk. It is the Customer's sole responsibility to identify and consider all risks and be willing to accept all such risks before entering into any Transaction.

3. TITLE TRANSFER OF MONEYS AND ASSETS

Where the Customer transfers any moneys and/or assets to TOMO, the Customer agrees that any such transfer shall be a full transfer of all title, rights and benefits of such moneys and/or assets to TOMO and such moneys and/or assets shall be held by TOMO on a full title transfer basis, i.e full legal and beneficial ownership of such moneys and/or assets is transferred to TOMO. This is notwithstanding that any such transfer is for the purpose or has the effect of securing or otherwise covering the Customer's obligations under this Agreement. The Customer shall have no proprietary or any other right to any such moneys and/or assets but only a contractual right by way of an unsecured debt or contractual obligation as against TOMO (subject always to the other rights of TOMO under this Agreement and/or Applicable Laws). Such moneys and/or assets shall then no longer be considered or regarded as that of the Customer's or held for the Customer, and TOMO can deal with such moneys and/or assets as TOMO's own.

4. ORDERS

- 4.1. The Customer may request to enter into a Transaction under an Account by placing an Order with TOMO through such medium and in such manner as TOMO may in its sole and absolute discretion approve. The Customer understands that unless otherwise disclosed, TOMO acts as a principal for TOMO's own account when entering into any Transaction with the Customer.
- 4.2. Nothing in this Agreement shall oblige TOMO to enter into any Transaction with the Customer, or to accept any Order. TOMO may refuse to enter into any Transaction or act on any Order without giving any reason. TOMO shall bear no liability whatsoever for failing to comply with any Order of the Customer or for exercising or failing to exercise any discretion, power, or authority conferred upon TOMO by this Agreement.

- 4.3. Unless otherwise required by Applicable Laws, in assuming the role of the counterparty to any Transaction which TOMO enters into with the Customer, TOMO shall be absolutely entitled to all gains, profits and benefits derived from any such Transaction of the Customer with TOMO.
- 4.4. Without prejudice to any of TOMO's rights under this Agreement, unless otherwise required by any Applicable Laws, except as directed by the Customer, TOMO has no obligation to close any position in any Account which TOMO may carry on behalf of the Customer.
- 4.5. TOMO shall be entitled, but not obliged, to verify and be satisfied with respect to the identity of the person purporting to give an Order on behalf of the Customer or the source and origin of such Order and TOMO may refuse to rely or act upon any such Order unless and until TOMO is satisfied as to the matters on which TOMO sought verification.
- 4.6. Once an Order is received by TOMO, such Order is binding upon the Customer provided that the Customer may, subject to Clauses 4.7 and 4.8 below, give an Order to withdraw, cancel, revoke or vary a previous Order.
- 4.7. Where the Customer instructs TOMO to withdraw, cancel, revoke or vary an Order, TOMO shall not be obliged to comply with such instructions unless and until it has been confirmed that the Order has not been executed and that the withdrawal, cancellation, revocation or variation as the case may be, will not prejudice TOMO's position (where relevant) with a counterparty broker.
- 4.8. The Customer acknowledges that subsequent Orders to revoke or cancel an earlier Order given may not be effective to revoke an earlier Order or to cancel an Order made earlier. In such an event, TOMO shall not be liable to the Customer.
- 4.9. TOMO shall not be subject to any time restrictions in deciding whether or not to accept a Customer's Order or to enter into a Transaction and shall not be liable for any Loss arising from any delay on the part of TOMO in making such decision.
- 4.10. Without prejudice to TOMO's rights to refuse to accept any Order as set out in this Clause 4, where any Order is ambiguous or inconsistent with any other Order, TOMO shall be entitled to rely and act upon any Order in accordance with any reasonable interpretation thereof which TOMO believes in good faith to be the correct interpretation.
- 4.11. TOMO shall only act on Orders in respect of any Account or any part of the cash and other property held in any Account. TOMO shall not be required to act in accordance with any Order which purports to dispose of or deal with any cash or other property which is in fact not held in or to the credit of any Account.
- 4.12. If there occurs in relation to any Transaction or otherwise in relation to any Account an Extraordinary Event, TOMO shall have the sole and absolute discretion to determine any adjustments or actions necessary in relation to such Transaction or any or all Transactions or otherwise to an Account or all Accounts in view of the Extraordinary Event. Such adjustments or actions may include altering or varying the quantities or specifications of the Commodities, FX or other Underlying Thing that is the subject matter in respect of such Transaction(s), some or all Transactions(s), or terminating the Transaction(s) in question or some or all Transaction(s) or any Account or otherwise. Insofar as TOMO makes such adjustments or takes such actions in good faith, any such adjustments or actions shall be binding on the Customer who shall be liable for any additional Loss suffered or incurred by TOMO on the account of the Customer or which the Customer is consequently liable for as a result of such adjustments or actions.

5. USE OF INTERMEDIARIES

- 5.1 TOMO may use, engage or appoint, directly or indirectly, any person, including but not limited to another broker, dealer or other third party (each, “Intermediary”), in any jurisdiction, whether or not an officer of TOMO, and whether or not associated with, connected to or related to TOMO, to carry out any Order, to execute or clear any Transaction or to exercise any authority granted to TOMO by the Customer under this Agreement or otherwise. Such engagement or appointment of any Intermediary shall be upon such terms and conditions as TOMO deems fit in its discretion.
- 5.2 Where TOMO uses, engages or appoints an Intermediary and provided that TOMO has exercised reasonable care in its selection of the Intermediary, the Customer acknowledges, agrees and accepts that all risks arising from or consequent from or in relation to the acts or omissions of appointing and/or using an Intermediary shall be borne by the Customer and the Customer agrees to be solely responsible for the same.
- 5.3 Without prejudice to Clause 5.2, the Customer further undertakes to indemnify, keep indemnified and hold harmless TOMO against any and all Losses (including legal costs on a full indemnity basis) suffered or incurred by TOMO whether directly or indirectly in relation to, arising out of or in connection with any negligence, misconduct, fraud or wilful default or any other default, wrongdoing or breach of duty howsoever caused and however serious of an Intermediary or an Intermediary’s officers, employees, agents or representatives.
- 5.4 The Customer further acknowledges and agrees that, where TOMO uses or appoints an Intermediary, TOMO may have to accept sole and principal responsibility to that Intermediary for the executed Order (notwithstanding that as between the Customer and TOMO, TOMO may in fact be the agent of the Customer). Accordingly, and without prejudice to Clauses 5.2 and 5.3, the Customer shall indemnify, keep indemnified and hold harmless TOMO against any and all actions which TOMO deems in good faith necessary to ensure that TOMO will not be in default of its said principal obligation or responsibility.
- 5.5 The foregoing rights and remedies of TOMO will apply even though as between TOMO and the Customer, the Customer may be in Default or Potential Default.
- 5.6 The Customer acknowledges that TOMO may pay to, receive and retain from any Intermediary charges, commissions, fees, rebates or other payments in any form in connection with any Transaction effected for or with the Customer or any Account without being liable to account for or disclose to the Customer any such profit derived by it.

6. TRANSACTION LIMITS AND RESTRICTIONS

- 6.1. TOMO may, in its sole and absolute discretion at any time and without prior notice to the Customer, impose upon the Customer any position or transaction limits, or any trading or transaction restrictions. Such limits may include minimum or maximum sizes for Transactions, specified times or procedures for communicating Orders to TOMO or otherwise.

- 6.2. TOMO may, at any time, in its sole and absolute discretion and without prior notice to the Customer, vary the position or transaction limits, or any trading or transaction restrictions. No previous limit or restriction shall set a precedent or bind TOMO.
- 6.3. The Customer shall not exceed any position or transaction limits, or breach any trading or transaction restrictions imposed by TOMO in accordance with this Clause 6.
- 6.4. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, all cash and other property of the Customer (including, but not limited to, Margin) which may at times be in TOMO's (or any of TOMO's Affiliate's) possession or control or carried on TOMO's books for the Customer either solely, jointly with others, or as a guarantor for the account of any person, for any purpose, including safekeeping, are to be held by TOMO (or any of TOMO's Affiliate's) as continuing security and subject to a general lien and right of set off for liabilities of the Customer to TOMO or any of TOMO's Affiliates whether or not TOMO has made advances in connection with such cash or other property, and irrespective of the number of Accounts the Customer may have with TOMO.
- 6.5. The Customer consents to authorize TOMO to sell and/or purchase, or otherwise apply, any and all such cash and other property to satisfy the Customer's liabilities owing to TOMO or TOMO's Affiliate.
- 6.6. TOMO may in its discretion, at any time and from time to time, without notice to the Customer apply and/or transfer any or all such cash and other property of the Customer's interchangeably between any of the Customer's Accounts.
- 6.7. TOMO shall be entitled at any time without notice to combine and/or consolidate all or any of the Customer's Accounts with TOMO and TOMO's Affiliates without being obliged to furnish any reason to the Customer. Without limiting or modifying the general provisions of this Agreement, TOMO is hereby specifically authorised to transfer any sum or sums among the different Accounts that the Customer has with TOMO and with any of TOMO's Affiliates in settlement of all the Customer's debts with TOMO or TOMO's Affiliates.
- 6.8. For so long as the Customer owes moneys or obligations (of whatsoever nature and howsoever arising) to TOMO, the Customer may not withdraw any cash or other property held with TOMO (whether as Margin or otherwise) without TOMO's consent. TOMO may at any time withhold any cash or other property of the Customer pending full settlement of all such moneys or obligations of the Customer.
- 6.9. In addition to Clause 6.8, TOMO may at any time and from time to time without notice to the Customer set-off any amounts due to the Customer or held in any Account or any other account to which the Customer is beneficially entitled (whether with TOMO or with any Affiliate of TOMO) to reduce or extinguish any liability whether present or future, actual or contingent, primary or as surety, owed by the Customer to TOMO or to any of TOMO's Affiliates.

7. STATEMENTS AND CONFIRMATIONS

- 7.1. Subject to Applicable Laws, TOMO shall furnish to the Customer a Confirmation in respect of each Transaction, which shall not be later than two Business Days after the Transaction (or such other date required under Applicable Laws).
- 7.2. TOMO shall furnish to the Customer a monthly and/or quarterly statement of account for the Customer's Account(s) in accordance with Applicable Laws.
- 7.3. The Customer shall verify all Confirmations and statements sent by TOMO to the Customer. If no objection is raised within one (1) Business Day of the Customer's receipt of such Confirmation or statement, such Confirmation or statement shall, except for manifest or clerical errors, be deemed conclusive and binding upon the Customer, who shall not be entitled to object thereto and who shall be deemed to have ratified all matters therein stated. Any objection raised by the Customer shall be accompanied by satisfactory evidence supporting the alleged inaccuracy and shall be communicated to TOMO in accordance with Clause 19 of this Agreement.
- 7.4. TOMO may at any time rectify any error on any entry, statement, Confirmation or advice which TOMO becomes aware of or which has been proved to TOMO's satisfaction, and may demand immediate repayment from the Customer of any moneys erroneously paid over to the Customer as a result of such error.
- 7.5. If the Customer does not receive a Confirmation or statement in the ordinary course of business, the Customer shall immediately notify TOMO of such fact.

8. MARGIN

- 8.1. The Customer shall deposit, maintain in each Account and/or otherwise provide TOMO with Margin and additional Margin in such amounts and at such times as TOMO may in its sole and absolute discretion stipulate. The acceptability of any money, asset or property as Margin shall be determined at the sole discretion of TOMO and may be subject to change. Subject to any Applicable Law, TOMO shall be authorised at all times, at the cost and expense of the Customer, to hold such Margin and additional Margin (if any) in such accounts as TOMO may in its sole and absolute discretion decide.
- 8.2. TOMO may, in its sole and absolute discretion, with or without notice to the Customer, vary its Margin limits, levels and other requirements (referred to as "Margin Requirements" for the purposes of this Clause 8) for each Account at any time (including stipulating different Margin Requirements for different Transactions in each product and/or asset class as TOMO may determine), and may also stipulate that such revised Margin Requirements shall apply to existing positions as well as new positions in respect of the Transactions or Accounts. The Customer agrees that TOMO may, by notice, effect an immediate change in Margin Requirements and/or require with or without prior notice additional Margin to be deposited immediately or within a very short period of time which may be less than twenty-four (24) hours. The Customer hereby waives any right to object on the grounds that such requirement is unreasonable. No previous Margin Requirements shall set a precedent or bind TOMO. The Customer accepts that this is a risk inherent in the Customer's entering into and dealing in Transactions with or through TOMO.
- 8.3. The Customer is expected to monitor its Transactions and comply with all Margin Requirements. TOMO shall not be under any obligation to review the status of the Customer's Account for compliance with all Margin Requirements. Notwithstanding this, TOMO may, in its sole and absolute discretion, review the status of the Customer's Account for the purposes of ensuring compliance with any applicable Margin Requirements provided that TOMO shall bear no liability whatsoever for any such review.

- 8.4. The Customer does not have a right to an extension of time with regards to calls for Margin by TOMO. If TOMO, in its discretion, grants any such extension of time for calls for Margin to the Customer, then unless TOMO expressly states in writing that such extension of time is intended to override or prevail over TOMO's rights under this Clause 8, such extension of time is not binding and shall be deemed to have been granted subject always to TOMO's rights under this Clause 8.
- 8.5. All Margin shall be held by TOMO and/or any of TOMO's Affiliates as TOMO in its discretion deems fit, notwithstanding any provision or instructions to the contrary, and in addition to any right that TOMO may have under any Applicable Laws or otherwise, as continuing security and shall be subject to a general lien and right of set-off in favour of TOMO, and/or where relevant, TOMO's Affiliates, for any and all of the Customer's liabilities to TOMO, whether actual or contingent, under this Agreement or otherwise, and TOMO may realise any of the Margin of the Customer as provided for in this Agreement.
- 8.6. TOMO may at any time and from time to time:
- 8.6.1. conduct a valuation or assessment of the Margin provided by or for the Customer; and
 - 8.6.2. the cost of such valuation or assessment shall be borne by the Customer and for the Customer's Account.

The value of all Margin provided to and held by, or to be provided to and held by, TOMO shall be as determined by TOMO in its discretion from time to time.

- 8.7. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that no interest shall be paid on any type of Margin deposited, maintained and/or otherwise provided by or for the Customer with TOMO and that any interest earned on the Customer's Margin may be retained by TOMO for TOMO's own account and benefit. TOMO shall be entitled to charge interest on any sum due from the Customer in respect of any Margin Requirements at such rate and calculated and/or compounded in such manner as TOMO may impose and determine from time to time in its sole and absolute discretion.
- 8.8. In connection with all cash and other property held by or to be held by TOMO as Margin, for purposes of any Transaction or any Account, the Customer shall promptly execute and do all such documents, instruments, assurances, acts and things as necessary or as required by TOMO for creating, perfecting and/or protecting the rights of TOMO to such Margin, including but not limited to delivering to TOMO all security and other documents, in such form or forms acceptable to TOMO, duly executed by the Customer or for the Customer in favour of TOMO and, where necessary, having the same duly filed, stamped and registered in accordance with all Applicable Laws.
- 8.9. TOMO may, at any time and in its sole and absolute discretion, apply and/or set-off (whether by way of sale, disposal or otherwise) any and all Margin held by TOMO and/or any of TOMO's Affiliates towards the payment of any amounts due and payable by the Customer to TOMO under any Transaction or Account or towards meeting any of the Customer's obligations and liabilities to TOMO (whether or not arising out of this Agreement and including but not limited to the obligation to comply with the Margin Requirements and the obligation to provide additional Margin), whether or not any time which has been allowed for the Customer to provide any additional Margin or take any other action has elapsed. Such Transaction shall be squared in the order and manner as determined by TOMO in its sole and absolute discretion.

Where only a part of a Transaction is squared, the remaining part will be considered to be a separate open position having the same maturity date as the original Transaction, as the case may be.

4.7. - (b) For FX Transactions settled on a non-deliverable basis, the obligation of one of the parties to deliver Currency on the maturity date under the Transaction shall be cancelled and replaced by an obligation to deliver the equivalent amount of one of the Currencies of the Currency pair of that Transaction (such Currency which shall be selected by TOMO from the Currency pair at its sole and absolute discretion ("Reference Currency"), at such exchange rate as may be determined by TOMO. The resultant obligation of such party to deliver the greater amount of the Reference Currency will be set-off against the other party's obligation to deliver the Currency of the Reference Currency on the maturity date under that Transaction, with the party having the obligation to deliver the greater amount of the Reference Currency being obliged to pay the difference to the party having the obligation to deliver the smaller amount. Where the Customer has entered into two or more FX Transactions, on the same Currency pair (with the same Reference Currency) and with the same maturity date, TOMO may at its sole and absolute discretion set-off the Customer's obligations to deliver the Reference Currency to TOMO under one or more FX Transactions against TOMO's obligation to deliver the Reference Currency to the Customer against one or more FX Transactions, and vice versa, such that a single net amount is payable by the Customer to TOMO (or vice versa) under all of the relevant FX Transactions.

4.7.2. In respect of Transactions in any Commodity or any Underlying Thing; or otherwise relate to Commodity or any Underlying Thing:

- (a) For such Transactions settled on a deliverable basis, each party will make or take delivery of the respective quantity of Commodities or Underlying Thing (as applicable) under the relevant Transaction on the maturity date. between TOMO and the Customer or, where not so agreed, as otherwise specified by TOMO.

- (b) For such Transactions settled on a non-deliverable basis, each party's obligation to payment of any such amount shall be automatically satisfied and discharged and, if the aggregate amount that would otherwise have been payable by one party exceeds the aggregate amount that would otherwise have been payable by the other party, replaced by an obligation upon the party by which the larger aggregate amount would have been payable to pay to the other party the excess of the larger aggregate amount over the smaller aggregate amount.

- 4.8. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the Customer fails to make payment or delivery to settle any Transaction, TOMO may, without prejudice to its rights hereunder, roll-over such Transaction, square or settle such Transaction as the case may be, upon such terms which TOMO deems to be appropriate.
- 4.9. If at any time, the Customer shall be liable to deliver to TOMO any Commodity previously sold by TOMO on the Customer's behalf, the Customer authorises TOMO and on such terms and conditions as TOMO shall consider fit, without further notice to the Customer in any specific case, to borrow or buy and deliver the same on the Customer's behalf.
- 4.10. The Customer shall immediately pay, hold harmless, indemnify and keep indemnified TOMO from and against any and all Loss (including legal costs on a full indemnity basis) which TOMO may sustain in making such borrowing, buying or delivery, or failing to make such borrowing, buying or delivery.
- 4.11. In the event that the Customer is required to take actual delivery on the maturity date of the Transaction, the Customer acknowledges and agrees that:
 - 4.11.1. it is the Customer's sole responsibility to take delivery on any such maturity date; and
 - 4.11.2. TOMO may at its discretion, but is not responsible for or obliged to, inform the Customer of such delivery to be taken or to take delivery of such Transaction on behalf of the Customer;
- 4.12. If TOMO takes any such delivery of any Commodity for the Account(s), the Customer agrees to indemnify, keep indemnified and hold TOMO harmless against and from any Loss that TOMO may suffer or incur resulting directly or indirectly from a decline in value of the abovementioned Commodity.
- 4.13. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that nothing in this Agreement or the above provisions shall imply any duty on TOMO, and TOMO shall have no duty to borrow, buy or deliver any of the abovementioned Commodity or attempt to do so, in order to satisfy the Customer's delivery obligation in such circumstances.
- 4.14. If at any time, the Customer fails to remit sufficient funds or deliver documents in accordance with the time period specified above, the Customer will be solely responsible for any and all consequences arising therefrom or in connection therewith including without limitation:
 - 4.14.1. any default in relation to the relevant positions;
 - 4.14.2. any and all fines and damages imposed by the relevant exchange, market or clearing house through which such Transactions are executed, settled or cleared;

 - 5.5. Any determinations and calculations by TOMO shall (in the absence of manifest error) be final and binding on the Customer, provided that TOMO has acted in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner.
 - 5.6. In the event of a determination by TOMO in good faith that any material disruption to the price source set out in the terms for any Transaction or in a relevant reference market has occurred (each such event a "Market Disruption Event"), TOMO may determine in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the market pricing of the underlying reference instrument for the purposes of the parties' respective rights and obligations under such Transaction and its determination shall be final and binding on the parties.
 - 5.7. TOMO has the sole discretion to determine:
 - 5.7.1. whether a Market Disruption Event has occurred during the life of a Transaction or on the date which a Transaction is required to be settled and, if such Market Disruption Event occurs on the date which a Transaction is required to be settled, what price or level should the relevant closing level of the underlying reference instrument be for the purposes of settlement of the relevant Transaction; or
 - 5.7.2. whether any adjustments to the terms of the Transaction should be made as a result of any event(s) affecting the underlying reference instrument or (if the same is an index) any of its constituent components or combination thereof to which the relevant reference instrument and Transaction relate (including an index adjustment event such as a material change in the formula for or the method of calculating the index or failure to calculate and publish the index).
- Any such discretion exercised by, or any calculation made by TOMO (in the absence of manifest error) shall be binding on the Customer who should note that TOMO when making any such adjustments or calculations, will not take into account the Customer's individual circumstances and/or tax or other consequences of such adjustments or calculations.
- 5.8. The Customer acknowledges, represents and warrants that, where applicable, it will comply fully at all times with reporting obligations in respect of the OTC Transactions under all Applicable Laws ("OTC Derivative Reporting Requirements"). The Customer acknowledges that it shall be solely responsible for such compliance at all times. For the avoidance of doubt, TOMO shall not be responsible for, and does not make any representation and warranty in respect of, ensuring the Customer's compliance with the OTC Derivative Reporting Requirements generally or in respect of any relevant OTC Transaction.

- 5.9. Where TOMO, as a party to a specified derivative contract, is required to comply with its reporting obligations under the OTC Derivative Reporting Requirements and make a report on relevant information of the Customer as a counterparty to such specified derivative contract, the Customer hereby acknowledges and consents to TOMO disclosing such relevant information of the Customer in connection with the OTC Derivative Reporting Requirements.

SCHEDULE 2 - TERMS AND CONDITIONS APPLICABLE TO ELECTRONIC EXECUTION FACILITIES

1. GENERAL

- 1.1. Where TOMO has made available to the Customer the use of Electronic Execution Facilities, the use of such facilities shall be subject to the relevant terms and conditions of this Schedule 2, which shall apply in addition to all other terms and conditions in the main body of this Agreement.
- 1.2. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that access and use of the Electronic Execution Facilities is provided on an “as is” and “as available” basis and TOMO makes no representation or warranty of any kind, express or implied, with respect to the functionality, operation, content or otherwise of such Electronic Execution Facilities and does not represent or warrant that such Electronic Execution Facilities or any part thereof is free from defect, failure or interruption or that they are fit for the Customer’s purposes or any particular purpose and, without prejudice to the foregoing, TOMO shall not in any event be liable for any system error faults or failure of such Electronic Execution Facilities whatsoever and howsoever caused other than by the wilful default or gross negligence of TOMO.

2. AUTHORISED USE

- 2.1. The Customer has the sole responsibility and shall be liable for the security and safekeeping of the Customer’s username, password and/or PIN issued by TOMO to the Customer. Accordingly, the Customer shall be fully responsible and liable for any Orders placed with TOMO through the use of the Electronic Execution Facilities.
- 2.2. The Customer agrees that TOMO shall be entitled to rely on the correct entry of a PIN in order to ascertain whether any Order given to TOMO is that of the Customer’s and to act on that assumption. The Customer shall be liable for all such Orders placed with TOMO.
- 2.3. In placing Orders using the Electronic Execution Facilities, the Customer hereby agrees that any such Orders are only considered as having been received by TOMO upon TOMO sending a notification to the Customer through the Electronic Execution Facilities of its receipt and informing the Customer that the Order has been either accepted or rejected for execution. Any such notification shall be deemed to have been received by the Customer when the same is issued by TOMO and the Customer shall be bound thereby notwithstanding that such notification may not have actually been received by the Customer for any reason whatsoever. The Customer shall bear the sole responsibility of keeping records of the same.
- 2.4. The Customer acknowledges and agrees to indemnify, hold harmless and fully indemnify TOMO from and against any and all Losses suffered or incurred by TOMO in connection with the Customer’s access to and use of such Electronic Execution Facilities and the acts or omissions of the Customer in connection therewith, other than where such Losses are directly caused by TOMO’s own wilful default or fraud.

3. DISTRIBUTION AND INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

- 3.1. The Customer is not entitled to and shall not reproduce, transmit, disseminate, sell, distribute, publish, broadcast, circulate and/or exploit (whether for commercial benefit or otherwise) the information and/or reports obtained from or through the use of the Electronic Execution Facilities, except with the express written consent of TOMO. The Customer shall also not use such information and/or records for any wrongful or illegal purpose.
- 3.2. In requesting TOMO to provide the Electronic Execution Facilities, the Customer accepts and acknowledges the fact that all intellectual property rights (whether by way of copyright or otherwise) in the information and reports available from and generated on the Electronic Execution Facilities as well as the Electronic Execution Facilities itself vest solely in and shall remain the exclusive property of TOMO and/or the provider of the Electronic Execution Facilities, as applicable. The Customer therefore agrees not to do anything that will violate or infringe TOMO's and/or where applicable, the Electronic Execution Facility provider's, intellectual property rights and shall take all necessary measures to preserve and protect these rights.

4. TRANSMISSION OF ELECTRONIC DATA

- 4.1. TOMO shall not be liable to the Customer for any Loss suffered or incurred by the Customer due to any inability of the Customer to access the Electronic Execution Facilities for any reason whatsoever, or for any errors, defect, malfunction or failure (whether total or partial) of the Electronic Execution Facilities (or any part thereof) or interruption or delay in response time of the Electronic Execution Facilities whether resulting or arising from any repair or servicing of the Electronic Execution Facilities; any damage, destruction, breakdown, mechanical or other defect, howsoever caused, to the Electronic Execution Facilities (or any part thereof); any corruption or damage to the Electronic Execution Facilities (or any part thereof); any failure by TOMO, its officers, employees, agents or representatives to receive the Customer's instructions or Orders notwithstanding that the instruction or Order has been received by the Electronic Execution Facilities; or, any other cause whatsoever.

5. DISCLAIMER

- 5.1. TOMO makes no warranty, guarantee or representation of any kind, express or implied, as to the quality or the merchantability or fitness for any particular use or purpose in relation to the information furnished under the Electronic Execution Facilities or any other features or aspect of the Electronic Execution Facilities, including but not limited to investment advice and/or access to information and/or the execution of any buy or sell recommendations and/or the cancellation or amendment of the same.
- 5.2. TOMO and/or the provider of the Electronic Execution Facilities may, through the Electronic Execution Facilities, provide quotes on prices at which TOMO and/or the provider of the Electronic Execution Facilities may be prepared to transact with the Customer. The Customer acknowledges that it is possible that errors may occur in any such prices so quoted by TOMO and/or the provider of the Electronic Execution Facilities. In such circumstances, without prejudice to any rights it may have under statute or common law, neither party will be bound by any Transaction purported to have been entered into (whether or not confirmed by TOMO and/or the provider of the Electronic Execution Facilities) at a price which was, or ought reasonably to have been known to either party to be materially incorrect at the time of the Transaction. The party asserting that such Transaction is avoided under this Clause shall give notice to the other within 7 Business Days of the Transaction. If the Customer gives notice to TOMO under this paragraph, TOMO and/or the provider of the Electronic Execution Facilities shall determine, acting reasonably, whether the price quoted was materially incorrect. Except in the case of fraud on the part of TOMO, TOMO does not accept any liability for any loss or damage suffered by the Customer as a result of the Customer's reliance on a price which the Customer knew, or ought reasonably to have known, to be materially incorrect.
- 5.3. TOMO shall not be responsible in any way whatsoever for the content, accuracy, timeliness or completeness of any information, data or other services provided through the Electronic Execution Facilities. As such, any information, data or services provided through the Electronic Execution Facilities should not be relied upon in relation to any investment decision, trading activities or Orders placed by the Customer who shall, at all times, rely on its own assessment and judgment in respect of any investment decision or proposed Transaction.

6. RIGHTS OF ACCESS

- 6.1. TOMO shall bear no liability and shall not be responsible for any Loss or inconvenience that may be suffered by the Customer as a result of any action by any regulatory body in the exercise of its regulatory or supervisory functions over TOMO. The Customer shall permit TOMO and/or any regulatory body to have access to such terminals as TOMO and/or the regulatory body may request, and the Customer shall co-operate in answering any of their queries in relation to any aspect of the Electronic Execution Facilities.

7. SECURITY

- 7.1. The Customer shall at all times ensure that the integrity and the security of the Electronic Execution Facilities are preserved and maintained. Accordingly the Customer shall ensure, inter alia, that there is no unauthorised use of Customer's username, password and/or PIN. The Customer shall forthwith on being aware of any unauthorised access or theft of the PIN(s) or security code(s) notify TOMO and provide such particulars as TOMO may require.
- 7.2. The Customer shall bear the sole responsibility of complying with the obligations under this Clause. In the event that the Customer breaches its obligations under this Clause, the Customer shall indemnify TOMO for any Loss that TOMO may suffer as a consequence of such unauthorised access and use.

8. RISK WARNING

- 8.1. The Customer hereby represents and declares that it understands and accepts the following associated with trading using the Electronic Execution Facilities:
- 8.1.1. that electronic trading and order routing systems differ from traditional open outcry pit trading, and that Transactions undertaken using an electronic system are subject to the rules and regulations of the exchange(s) offering the system and/or listing the contract. In this connection, the Customer hereby undertakes, prior to engaging in such Transactions to familiarise itself with, and from time to time to keep itself updated on, the rules and regulations of the relevant exchange(s) offering the system and/or listing the relevant futures contracts, and to understand, among other things, the system's order matching procedure, opening and closing procedures and prices, error trade policies and trading limitations or requirements; and
- 8.1.2. trading through an electronic trading or order routing system exposes the Customer to risks associated with system or component failure. Such system or component failure may result in the inability to enter new Orders, execute existing Orders, or modify or cancel Orders previously entered, as well as a loss of Orders or order prior

THE APPENDIX

RISK DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

This risk disclosure statement provides a brief outline of some of the risks associated with holding and trading of financial instruments generally. This risk disclosure statement is non-exhaustive, and it cannot be and is not sufficient to explain all the risks. The Customer should therefore fully understand the nature of the transactions and contractual relationships, the extent of its exposure to risk and the potential losses that can be incurred and, as appropriate, consult its professional advisers before entering into any Transaction.

The Customer acknowledges that it has read and understood this risk disclosure statement and accepts these risks.

General Investment Risks

Price and Market Risks - The prices of commodities fluctuate, sometimes dramatically. The price of a commodity may move up or down, and may become valueless. It is as likely that losses will be incurred rather than profit made as a result of buying and selling commodities. The Customer's position on various Transactions may be liquidated at a loss and the Customer will then be liable for any resulting deficit.

Under certain circumstances, it may be difficult to liquidate an existing position, assess the value, determine a fair price or assess its exposure to risk. The specifications of outstanding contracts may also be modified by a clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying asset.

Off-exchange/OTC Transactions - If the Customer enters into an off-exchange/OTC Transaction, TOMO may be acting as the Customer's counterparty. Off-exchange/OTC Transactions may be less regulated or subject to a separate regulatory regime, compared to on-exchange Transactions.

Because prices and characteristics of off-exchange/OTC financial instruments are often individually negotiated, there may be no central source for obtaining prices and there can be inefficiencies in the pricing of such instruments.

Off-exchange/OTC Transactions may also involve greater risk than dealing in exchange traded products because there is no exchange market through which to liquidate the Customer's position, to assess the value of the product or the exposure to risk. Bid and offer prices need not be quoted and it may be difficult to establish what is a fair price.

Country Risks - Transactions on markets in other jurisdictions may expose the Customer to additional risk. Such markets may offer different or diminished investor protection. Before the Customer trades, the Customer should make enquiries with TOMO about any rules relevant to the Customer's particular Transactions. The Customer's local regulatory authority will be unable to compel the enforcement of the rules of the regulatory authorities or markets in other jurisdictions where the Customer's Transactions have been effected. The Customer should ask TOMO for details about the types of redress available in both the Customer's home jurisdiction and other relevant jurisdictions before the Customer starts to trade. Any imposition by a country of exchange controls or other limitations or restrictions may cause payments to be made in the local currency instead of the original invested currency, or may result in the inability to effect outward remittances of funds from such country, which can affect the value of the Customer's investment or the Customer's ability to enjoy its benefit.

Investments in assets in "emerging markets", including those located in Asia, Latin America and eastern Europe, may yield high returns but may also carry high investment risks. Such risks include political risks, risks of economic instability, heightened levels of the general risks described above, greater prevalence of unsavoury market practices and laws and regulations which afford inadequate protection and safeguards to investors. Generally less information is publicly available with respect to emerging markets issuers and obligors and many emerging markets companies are subject to less rigorous accounting and reporting requirements than those applicable in developed markets.

Liquidity and Market Disruption Risks - Adverse market conditions may result in the Customer not being able to effect Transactions, liquidate all or part of its investments, assess a value or its exposure or determine a fair price, as and when it requires.

Placing contingent orders, such as “stop-loss” or “stop-limit” orders, will not necessarily limit the Customer's losses to the intended amounts, as it may be impossible to execute such orders under adverse market conditions. Strategies using combinations of positions, such as spread and straddle positions, may be as risky as taking simple long or short positions.

The normal pricing relationships between a derivative and the underlying assets may not exist in certain circumstances. For example, this can occur when an asset underlying an option is subject to price limits while the option is not.

Most open-outcry and electronic trading facilities are supported by computer-based systems for the order-routing, execution, matching, registration or clearing of trades. As with all facilities and systems, they are vulnerable to temporary disruption or failure. The Customer's ability to recover certain losses may be subject to limits on liability imposed by the system provider, the market, the clearing house and/or member firms. Such limits may vary. Before conducting any Transactions through such facilities or systems, the Customer should understand the details in this respect. Further, trading on an electronic trading system may differ not only from trading in an open-outcry market but also from trading on other electronic trading systems. If the Customer undertakes Transactions on an electronic trading system, it will be exposed to risks associated with the system including the failure of hardware and software. The result of any system failure may be that the Customer's order is either not executed according to its instructions or not executed at all.

Foreign Exchange Risks - Fluctuations in foreign currency rates will have an impact on the Customer's profit and loss where a Transaction involves a foreign currency element.

Derivatives Products - Derivatives are financial contracts for which the price is derived from an underlying asset or benchmark, such as a share or share index. Derivatives may be comprised of a number of different elements and this often makes them difficult to understand. The Customer should not deal in derivatives unless it asks about and understands the nature of the contract it is entering into, the terms and conditions of the contract and the extent of its exposure to risk. While the following sections of this risk disclosure statement describe the principal risks relevant to certain derivatives products, such as options, warrants, futures and forwards, it does not disclose all of the risks and other significant aspects of these products or other derivatives products.

Counterparty and Intermediary Default Risks - There may be a number of counterparties and/or intermediaries (including other brokers, dealers, market-makers, exchanges, clearing houses or other third parties) that may be involved with Transactions entered into by TOMO on the Customer's behalf. The Customer acknowledges and agrees that Transactions entered into on the Customer's behalf with or through such counterparties and/or intermediaries are subject to the prevailing terms and conditions as may be specified by such counterparties and/or intermediaries and are dependent on the performance, settlement or delivery by such counterparties and/or intermediaries.

Any wrongdoing, act, omission, insolvency, negligence, breach of duty, misconduct, fraud, wilful default or any other failure or default by or in respect of any such counterparty and/or intermediary may result in Losses to the Customer (including the loss of any Margin, investments, property or other documents of title belonging to the Customer and/or held in respect of the Customer's Transactions) or lead to the Customer's positions being liquidated or closed out without prior notice to or consent from the Customer and, by trading through or with TOMO, the Customer acknowledges and understands that any and all such Losses will be for the Customer's own account. In certain circumstances, the Customer may not even get back (in whole or in part) the actual cash and/or assets which the Customer may have deposited with TOMO (whether as Margin or otherwise) or the Customer may have to accept cash in lieu of the delivery of any available assets.

Upon an insolvency or other default of any such counterparty or intermediary (the "Defaulting Intermediary"), it may sometimes be possible to transfer the Customer's open positions to another appropriate counterparty or intermediary (the "Replacement Intermediary"). However, there may be occasions where the Customer's margins, cash and/or assets deposited with the Defaulting Intermediary may not be transferred to the Replacement Intermediary together with the transferred open positions. In such a scenario, the Customer's margins, cash and/or assets deposited with the Defaulting Intermediary ("Original Margin") may continue to be retained by the Defaulting Intermediary and the Customer may be required to provide fresh or additional margin, cash and/or other assets to the Replacement Intermediary ("Replacement Margin") in order for the Customer's open positions to be transferred to the Replacement Intermediary. In such a situation, TOMO may, if permitted by Applicable Law, and whether with or without notice to the Customer, provide to the Customer an advance or a loan for the purpose of meeting the Replacement Margin requirements so as to facilitate and support the transfer of the Customer's open positions from the Defaulting Intermediary to the Replacement Intermediary. The Customer will have to repay TOMO in full for any such advance or loan granted by TOMO. Any and all Original Margin subsequently received by TOMO from the Defaulting Intermediary may be used by TOMO to repay all such advances and loans granted by TOMO. While TOMO will generally endeavour to notify the Customer of the insolvency or default of a Defaulting Intermediary, the possibility of transferring the Customer's open positions to a Replacement Intermediary and the Replacement Margin requirements, the Customer accepts that it may not always be possible or feasible for TOMO to do so given prevailing market conditions and that it may not be in the Customer's interest for there to be any delay in the transfer of its open positions to a Replacement Intermediary. So long as TOMO acts in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner, TOMO will accept no liability or responsibility for any Loss suffered by the Customer and the Customer will be required to indemnify TOMO against all Losses (including legal costs on a full indemnity basis) suffered or incurred by TOMO in connection with any act, omission or step taken by TOMO in good faith in connection with the insolvency or other default of the Defaulting Intermediary and the transfer of open positions to a Replacement Intermediary and the grant of any advances or loans for Replacement Margin. The Customer acknowledges and accepts that the foregoing risks are inherent in trading with or through TOMO which requires Transactions to be placed with or executed through counterparties or intermediaries.

Margin and Leveraged Transactions - Financial transactions may sometimes involve a high degree of leverage. This can work against the Customer as well as for the Customer. A small market movement can produce large losses as well as gains.

The risk of loss in financing a Transaction by deposit of collateral is significant. The Customer may sustain losses in excess of its cash and any other assets deposited as collateral with the licensed or registered person. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" orders. The Customer may be called upon at short notice to make additional margin deposits or interest payments. If the required margin deposits or interest payments are not made within the prescribed time, the Customer's collateral may be liquidated without its consent. Moreover, the Customer will remain liable for any resulting deficit in its account and interest charged on its account. The Customer should therefore carefully consider whether such a financing arrangement is suitable in light of its own financial position and investment objectives.

Impact of Fees and Charges - Before the Customer begins to trade, the Customer should obtain a clear explanation of all commissions, fees and other charges for which it will be liable. These charges will affect the Customer's net profit (if any) or increase its loss and must be considered in any risk assessment made by the Customer.

Deposited cash and assets - The Customer should familiarise itself with the protections given to money or other property it deposits for domestic and foreign Transactions, particularly in the event of a counterparty's or an intermediary's insolvency or bankruptcy. The extent to which the Customer may recover its money or property may be governed by specific legislation or local rules. In some jurisdictions, property which had been specifically identifiable as the Customer's will be pro-rated in the same manner as cash for purposes of distribution in the event of a shortfall.

Futures - Futures entail the obligation to deliver or take delivery on a specified expiration date of a defined quantity of an underlying asset at a price agreed on the contract date. Futures are standardised contracts traded on-exchange. Futures involve a high degree of risk: the "gearing" or "leverage" often obtainable in futures trading means that a small deposit or down payment can lead to large losses as well as gains.

On buying or (short) selling an underlying asset on the futures market, the Customer must supply a specified initial margin on agreement of the contract. This is usually a percentage of the total value of the contracted instruments. In addition, a variation margin is calculated periodically during the life of the contract. This corresponds to the book profit or loss arising from any change in value in the contract or underlying instrument. In the event of a book loss, the variation margin can be several times as large as the initial margin.

Options - Transactions in options carry a higher degree of risk. Buyers and sellers of options should familiarize themselves with the type of options (i.e. put or call) which they contemplate trading, the style of exercise, the nature and extent of rights and obligations and the associated risks. You should calculate the extent to which the value of the options would have to increase for your position to become profitable, taking into account the premium paid and all transaction costs. You should also inform yourself of the exercise and expiration procedures and your rights and obligations upon exercise or expiry. Please note that Option transactions may be exchange-traded, exchange-cleared or transacted bilaterally with TOMO.

A person should not buy any option unless he is able to sustain a total loss of the premium and transaction costs of buying the option. The buyer of options may offset its position by trading in the market or exercise the options or allow the options to expire. A person who buys an option should be aware that in order to realise any value from the option, it will be necessary either to offset the option position or to exercise the option. The buyer of an option should be aware that some option contracts may provide only a limited period of time for exercise of the option (e.g. an American-style option), and some option contracts may provide for the exercise of the option on a specified or stipulated date (e.g. a European-style option). The exercise of an option results either in a cash settlement or in the buyer acquiring or delivering the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract or leveraged foreign exchange transaction, the buyer will have to acquire a futures or leveraged foreign exchange position, as the case may be, with associated liabilities for margin. If the purchased options expire worthless, you will suffer a total loss of your investment which will consist of the option premium paid plus transaction costs. If you are contemplating buying deep-out-of-the-money options, you should be aware that, ordinarily, the chance of such options becoming profitable is remote. It may sometimes even be impossible to acquire the necessary underlying asset.

Selling (writing or granting) an option generally entails considerably greater risk than buying options. Although the premium received by the seller is fixed, the seller may sustain a loss well in excess of the amount of the premium received. The seller will be liable to deposit additional margin to maintain the position if the market moves unfavourably. The seller will also be exposed to the risk of the buyer exercising the option and the seller will be obligated to either settle the option in cash or to acquire or deliver the underlying interest. If the option is on a futures contract or a leveraged foreign exchange transaction, the seller of a put option will acquire a futures contract or leveraged foreign exchange position, as the case may be, with associated liabilities for margin. If the option is "covered" by the seller holding a corresponding position in the underlying futures contract, leveraged foreign exchange transaction or another option, the risk may be reduced. If the option is not covered, the risk of loss can be unlimited.

Additional risks common to options trading

Terms and conditions of contracts: Before you conduct your transactions, you should understand the terms and conditions of the specific option which you are trading and the associated obligations (e.g. the expiration dates and restrictions on the time of exercise). Under certain circumstances, the specifications of outstanding contracts (including the exercise price of an option) may be modified by the exchange or clearing house to reflect changes in the underlying interest.

Commodity options: Before entering into any transaction involving a commodity option, you should thoroughly understand the nature and type of option involved and the underlying physical commodity. In addition to the risks set out above, you should note that specific market movements of the underlying physical commodity cannot be predicted accurately. The prices of commodities can and do fluctuate, and may experience up and down movements which would affect the value of the option.

Exotic options: Unlike "plain vanilla" put and call options, exotic options are subject to additional conditions and agreements. Exotic options come in the form of tailor-made over-the-counter options. Given the special composition of exotic options, their price movements can vary markedly from those of their "plain vanilla" cousins. You must also be aware that larger transactions can trigger price movements even shortly before expiration and that these can render an option worthless. There is no limit to the structures exotic options may take. We cannot go into detail here about the risks involved in any particular case. Before buying any exotic options, be sure to seek comprehensive advice about the particular risks involved.

OTC forwards - There is no actual market for OTC forwards agreed individually, and hence such positions may only be closed out with the agreement of the counterparty.

Contracts for Differences - Contracts for differences provide for adjustment between the parties based on the respective values or levels of certain Underlying Things at the time of the contracts and at an agreed future time. Such Underlying Things can be shares as well as commodities, securities, currencies, interest rate swaps, etc. There is no delivery on these contracts which can only be settled in cash.

Further, the relevant Underlying Thing may not have a ready market. Consequently, these contracts for differences may be very illiquid and in such event, you may sustain substantial losses as the bid/offer spreads may be very wide if the market moves against your position. Essentially, contracts for differences carry the same risks as investing in a futures contract, forward or an option and you should be aware of these as set out above. In particular, transactions in contracts for differences have margin requirements and you should be aware of the implications of this as set out in the section above entitled "Margin and Leveraged Transactions". You should familiarise yourself with the margin requirements (which can vary with the Underlying Thing) and you will be responsible for monitoring your positions and knowing when you will be required to deposit additional margin.

Unless otherwise notified to you, all contracts for differences will be entered into with TOMO transacting as principal. They are not transacted on a regulated exchange, and the terms and conditions of contracts for differences will be established solely by TOMO. Your rights and obligations under a contract for difference are not assignable or transferable to any person, and the transaction can only be closed out with TOMO during TOMO's normal trading hours in accordance with the Agreement.

Before you trade, you should familiarise yourself with the details of all commissions and other charges for which you will be liable.

Under certain trading conditions it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position, even if the reference Underlying Thing for a contract for difference is the price on an exchange. For example, this may occur if the price of the Underlying Thing on an exchange rises or falls so rapidly that trading on the exchange is restricted or suspended. A "stop loss" order therefore cannot guarantee that your loss will be limited.

You should familiarise yourself with the protection accorded to any money or other property which you deposit as margin for such trades. TOMO may onward deposit these with its hedging counterparty to cover margin requirement on your trades. In the unlikely event that TOMO becomes insolvent, your ability to withdraw the deposit may be affected and you may be an unsecured creditor of TOMO with respect to any shortfall.

To the extent that the reference Underlying Thing is traded on a foreign market, this may expose you to risks that are greater than those in local markets, as described above in the section entitled "Country Risks".

FX trading - When trading in FX, the investor takes a view on the development of the price of one currency relative to another, where one is sold and the other is purchased. By way of example, an investor may sell British pounds (GBP) against the US dollar (USD) if he expects that the USD will increase relative to the GBP.

FX is traded as a leveraged product, which means that for a small outlay, you can open and trade larger positions in the market. FX may be traded as FX Spot, FX Forward or FX Options. FX Spot is the purchase of one currency against the sale of another for immediate settlement on the spot date. FX Forward and FX Options transactions are settled on an agreed date in the future at prices which are agreed on the date of the transaction. FX Forward trading involves an obligation to enter into the transaction at the agreed price on the settlement date. A purchaser of FX Options has a right to enter into a transaction in the underlying FX Spot currency pair on the expiry date if the price is more favourable than the market price at this time. On the other hand, a seller of options has an obligation to enter into a transaction with the purchaser (TOMO) on the settlement date if requested by the purchaser. Purchased options therefore involve a limited risk in the form of a premium which is payable when the contract is made, while options that have been sold involve unlimited risk in the form of changes to the price of the underlying FX Spot currency pair.

The currency exchange market is the world's largest financial market with 24 hour trading on working days. It is characterised, among other things, by a relatively low profit margin compared to other products. A high profit is therefore subject to a large trading volume, which is achieved for instance by margin trading as described above. When trading in FX, a gain realised by one market player will always be offset by another player's loss. FX transactions are always made with TOMO as counterparty, and TOMO quotes prices on the basis of prices that can be obtained in the market.

Please note that as FX is margin traded, it allows you to take a larger position than you would otherwise be able to based on your funds with TOMO. As such, a relatively small negative or positive market movement can have a significant effect on your investment. FX trading therefore involves a relatively high level of risk. This makes the potential gain quite high, even if the deposit is relatively small. If your total exposure on margin trades exceeds your deposit, you risk losing more than your deposit.

Slippage - Slippage encountered by Customers of TOMO is generally organic in nature and a result of market conditions and the prices received by liquidity providers. There are no settings to create unnatural or asymmetric slippage where a client would be more likely to receive negative slippage than positive slippage.

In certain situations Customers may request special trading conditions such as a larger maximum trade size or different order routing. In any such case, the Customer will be informed that a change in conditions may result in increased Slippage or more unfavourable executions. The Customer will be required to agree via email or via recorded phone call about such potential added risks.

The disclosures above (even when taken and read in conjunction with the risk disclosures statements in the Application Form) do not purport to disclose all of the risks and other material considerations associated with Transactions the Customer may enter into. The Customer specifically should not take the general disclosures herein as business, legal, tax or accounting or other advice or as modifying applicable law.

IF THE CUSTOMER IS IN ANY DOUBT ABOUT AN ACTUAL OR PROPOSED TRANSACTION, THE CUSTOMER SHOULD CONSULT ITS OWN BUSINESS, LEGAL, TAX, ACCOUNTING AND OTHER ADVISERS WITH RESPECT TO THE TRANSACTION AND IN ALL CASES THE CUSTOMER SHOULD REFRAIN FROM ENTERING INTO ANY TRANSACTION WITH OR THROUGH TOMO UNLESS THE CUSTOMER HAS FULLY UNDERSTOOD THE TERMS AND RISKS OF THE TRANSACTION, INCLUDING THE EXTENT OF ITS POTENTIAL RISK OF LOSS AND IS WILLING AND ABLE TO SUSTAIN SUCH LOSS.
